HEAVY VERDICT .- The jury in the case of John

Stiles against the Westchester Railroad Company, rendered a verdict yesterday, in favor of the plain

Edward Gibbon Wakefield, (famous in England for the daring and violent abduction of an heiress some years since, for which he was convicted and sentenced to three years' imprisonment) has just been elected a Member of the Colonial Parliament from the Beauharnois District, beating Mr. Scriver by 1682 votes to 951. He was the Libaral candidate, and supported at once by Government influence and by the entire French population. The reign of the 'Family Compact' or old British anti-French clique, would seem to be at an end, even under Tory ascendancy.

THIERS'S HISTORY OF THE FRENCH REVOLU-TION .- Israel Post, 88 Bowery, has just commenced the publication in weekly numbers of another edition of this magnificent work. It is printed in fine style and will be completed in sixteen numbers-each containing more than 130 pages and being sold at 25 cents. Thirteen steel engravings will accompany the publication-which is thus made one of the cheapest and the most convenient ever issued.

SCIENTIFIC TASTE. - The science of Astronomy has received considerable attention at Cincinnati for the last year, the labors of Professor Mitchell having awakened a deep enthusiasm upon the subject. The Chronicle announces that a subscripjon of $10,000 has been obtained to purchase a plescope for the Professor's use. This is a most munificent and honorable contribution to the cause of science. In how mnny of our Eastern cities does there exist an equally enlightened and generous liberality?

IT In the Asbury University, an institution established by the Methodists at Greencastle, Putnam County, Ia., in 1837, has now 127 students-namely, 6 seniors, 6 juniors, 16 sophomores, 20 freshmen, 42 irregulars, and 37 preparatory sudents. The resources of the institution are stimated at about $38,000.

EARLY HISTORY OF ENGLISH LAWYERS .- The number of persons who have risen by the law from low fortunes to the very highest places in the State

The present Attorney General of England, Sir F. Pollock, is the son of a saddler. The shop, known to sporting characters, at Charing Cross, now kept by the Messrs. Cuff, belonged to Pollock, pere, who disposed of the business to its present proprietors. Sir J. Williams, of the Queen's Bench in England, is the son of a Yorkshire horse-dealer. The Chancellor of Ireland, Sugden, is the son of a barber; it is only fair to say that this profound lawyer glories in his origin. At the Cambridge election, when Lord Monteagle best him by a majority of 28, Sir Edward was assailed, while speaking from the hustings, with a ery from a Whig of "Off, off, you barber's son!" Sir Edward, not at all disconcerted, said at once, The difference between the person who thus assails me and myself is simply this: had he been om the son of a barber he would have remained in the same condition all his life; I was born one, and have risen from that humble sphere." The ither of Mr. Platt, the Queen's counsel, one of he most eminent of the English common law bar, was a clerk to the late Lord Ellenborough. Baron Gurney's mother kept a small shop for political amphlets. Mr. Petersdorf's father was a further. Lord Kenyon, who was successively Attor-bey General, Master of the Rolls, and Lord Chief Justice, and who died worth £300,000 per class. Justice, and who died worth £300,000, was clerk to an attorney. Lord Hardwicke, who was Attornev General in his thirty-fourth year, was son of an attorney et Dover, who, according to some persons, was hanged for forgery. Lord Eldon was son of a coal-fitter at Newcastle-on-Tyne, and his brother, afterwards, Lord Stowell, berrowed £40 in order to enable him to go his circuit. Lord Tenterden's father was a barber at Canterbury .-Lord Langdale was formerly an accoucheur. Lord formerly an auctioneer; and Mr. Clarkson, the barned Recorder of Faversham, and a leading adlocate in the criminal courts on the home circuit, we believe, was a writing clerk in the office of a law stationer. There are some other very remarkable cases, Lecture.—The regular weekly Lecture will be delivered on Friday evening next, at the Lecture Hall, 411 Broadway.

We announced, some time since, that a Pamphlet containining a concise practical description of Association and intended, from cheapness of price, for general circulation, was preparing, which would give a clear idea of the system we advocate, and aid efficiently in its propagation. Various causes, which it is not necessary to explain, have combined to delay its publication, but it is now in process of being stereotyped, and will appear in the course of a few weeks.

We have a good many difficulties to contend with in propagating our system, and as we do not not wish them to make any sacrifices, they will of course excuse us if we cannot at all times go as fast as they would wish.

Devoted to an Explanation of the Practical and Sci-

The character of this paper will be three-fold: it will-The character of this paper will be three-fold: it will— 1st. Discuss social and political questions, show the impo-tency of the means and measures now advocated by differ-ent parties to secure to the People prosperity and happiness, and point out practical and effectual measures for so doing, 2d. Elucidate and explain the practical and scientific parts of the System of Association or plan for a re-organization of Society discovered by Charles Fourier. This will form the main feature of the paper.

31. Discuss Religious and Philosophical questions of a high order.
The above title is selected to maintain unity of name with because they cannot spend their wealth upon thembinations of expense and personal enjoyment. The Poor will be partakers of refinement and delight of sense and soul, as much almost as those who are the richest, and without the thought and trouble

The richer a man is, in such a state of things, the greater are the duties he imposes on himself in spending his own income, for he is neither able nor inclined to spend it on himself alone, when individual and collective interests are identical; and if he were inclined to spend his money foolishly instead of usefully, he would be deemed a simpleton by all his friends and neighbors, and discarded from the pleasures of society and friendship as an animal of an inferior intellect whom nobody would waste their time upon in social intercourse of an inferior order. He would, however, be unfettered in his folly if he could induce his fellow beings to encourage his propensities, by acting with him according to his wishes; but where every person, rich or poor, young or old, is independent, it would not be easy to find many people of sound sense encouraging the folly of an individual who happened to be richer in external wealth than intellect and common sense. Such a person would be left without the power of doing evil or outraging common sense, from want of persons willing to en-

Riches, then, in such a state of things, are harmess in the hands of fools, and only capable of being spent for general utility by persons of discretion, so that every person may accumulate to any possible extent without the slightest danger to Society. In Wealth amassed externally, or property, as it is terracd, it matters not how rich or poor a man or woman be: the only riches of importance to all persons are the active powers of soul and body; Health and Vigor to enjoy the infinite diversity of temporal and spiritual Happiness; the possession of external Wealth conferring liberty of action in proportion only to the duty and responsibility of direct management: responsibility to social sanction only, and good sense, but not to arbitrary laws and institutions.

To understand this subject fully, Fourier's works must be consulted, as we cannot give the demonstration in a page or two, but the intelligent may understand the principle by correspondency in nature. Take the Sun, for instance, in the Solar System; it is undoubtedly the richest of the stars associated in that system, and yet all the poorer stars, in each State; Anecdotes, Epigrams, and Humors of the the planets and their satellites, gain more from it. considerably, than it gains from them as individuals, though they, collectively, enrich it with their contributions of aromal (imponderable) fluid, indireading matter alone is worth double the price of the work, vidually and respectively, before it radiates upon them all again, in joyous harmony of light and heat, melodiously combined in Unity, the plentiful

GREELEY & McELRATH,

Tribune Buildings, 160 Nassau-street diversified fragmentary contributions. The richer the active producers of Wealth make the passive pessessors of Wealth, the more luxuriant are the refinements which the latter reflect back upon creations, and receive collectively a rich supply of unitary Art and Splendor in return. This is the principle of universal Unity and Harmony propounded by Fourier in imitation of the Laws of God in Nature, and it differs from all other systems of Reform as Nature differs from the arbitrary combination of Mankind. He makes the Rich Man richer in external Wealth or Property amassed; and in Creative Skill, or powers of producing Wealth, internal Riches, he makes Poor Men rich by industrial Education; and by true associative Unity he makes the one as precious as the other for their mutual advantage. All are enriched in Health and Wealth, and temporal and spiritual Happiness, and none are either spoliated or degraded by associative Combination. This is the Destiny of Man in social Unity ordained of God, from all eternity, and brought to light by Charles Fourier in following the precepts of the Gospel:-" Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you." This is true conservative Reform, which makes the hearts of all men glad, and casteth out all fear. It is a heavenly principle of Love and Justice, worthy of both God and Man.

WONDERFUL EFFECTS OF SANDS'S SARSAPARILLA IN NORWICH.

the old residents in that part of the city.

messas. A. B. Sands & Co., Sirs: Most gratefully do embrace this opportunity for stating to you the great relief lootained from the use of your Sarsaparilla. I shall also be happy, through you, to publish to all who are afficied. as I lately was, the account of my unexpected, and even for a long while despaired of cure. Mine is a painful story and trying and sickening as is the narrative of it, for the sake of many who may be so surely relieved, I will briefly vet accurately state it.

Nineteen years ago last April a fit of sickness left me with an Erysipelas eruption. Dropsical collections immediately took place over the entire surface of my body, causing such as enlargement that it was necessary to add a half yard to the size of my dresses around the waist. Next followed, upon my limbs, ulcers, painful beyond description. For years, both in summer and winter, the only mitigation of years, both in summer and winter, the only mitigation of my suffering was found in pouring upon those parts cold water. From my limbs the pain extended over my whole body. There was literally for me no rest, by day or by night. Upon lying down these pains would shoot through my system, and compel me arise, and, for hours together, walk the house, so that I was almost entirely deprived of sleep. During this time the Erysipelas continued active, and the ulcers enlarged, and so deeply have these eaten, that for two and a half years they have been subject to bleeding. During these almost twenty years I have consulted many physicians. These have called my disease—as it was attended with an obstinate cough, and a steady and active pain in my side—a dropsical consumption; and though they have been skilful practitioners, they were only able to afford my case a partial and temporary relief. I had raany other difficulties to complicated to describe. I have also used many of the mediciness that have been recommended as intailible cures for this disease, yet these all failed, and I was most emphatically growing worse. In this critical condition, given up by friends, and expecting. this critical condition, given up by friends, and expecting for myself, relief only in death, I was by the timely interposition of a kind Providence, furnished with your, to me invaluable Sarsaparilla. A single bottle gave me an assurinvaluable Sarsaparilla. A single bottle gave ine an assurance of health, which for twenty years I had not once felt Upon taking the second, my enlargement diminished, and in twelve days from the 5th October, when I commenced taking your Sarsaparilla, I was able to enjoy sleep andrest, by night, as refreshing as any I ever enjoyed when in perfect health. Besides, I was, in this short time, relieved from all those excrutiating and unalleviated pains that had afflicted my days, as well as robbed me of my night's repose. The ulcers upon my limbs are healed, the Erysipelas cured, and my size reduced nearly to my former measure.

the Eryspelas cured, and my sale former measure.

Thus much do I feel it a privilege to testify to the efficacy of your health-restoring Sarsaparilla. A thousand thanks, sirs, from one whose comfort and whose hope of future health are due, under God, to your instrumentality. And may the same Providence that directed me to your aid, make you the happy and honored instruments of blessing others, as diseased and despairing as your much relieved and very grateful friend.

ASENATH M. PHILLIPS.

New London, Co. ss, Norwich, Nov. 4, 1842.

Personally appeared, the above-named Asenath M. Phillips, and made oath to the facts contained in the toregoing statement before me. RUFUS W. MATHEWSON, Being personally acquainted with Mrs. Phillips, I certify that the above asserted facts are substantially true.

WM. H. RICHABDS,

Minister of the Gospel at Norwich, Conn.

Another proof of the superior value and efficiency of this preparation.

New-York, Oct. 19, 1842. MESSRS. SANDS—GENTLEMEN: If you alone were concerned in the present statement, the great inducement for making it would be removed; for of course no testimony can strengthen your own convictions in relation to the value and efficiency of your Sarsaparilia, which has already proved such a blessing to the many hundreds who have used it. But I have looked upon the world encircling in its arms thousands bowed down with ufferings staliar to my own, who would gladt hasten to the same source that restored my health, if they were persuaded they would meet with the same happy results. Therefore, gentlemen, it is that those thousands may be convinced, and profit by their conviction as I have done, that induces me to state before the world a period of suffering such as few have known, and the permanent relief I received from your Saisaparilla. But how shall I begin, or how describe those excruciating agonies that serted upon my frame? Early in the month of June, 1840, I was first attacked with rheumatism, caused, I have reason to believe, by a severe cond contracted while nursing one of my children, who was then very ill. MESSES. SANDS-GENTLEMEN: If you alone were con very ill.

My suffering soon became intense, everywhere I seeme My suffering soon became intense, everywhere I seemed diseased. For five months I was unable to walk, and for six weeks did not lie upon a hed, but was obliged to remain in a sitting posture, that being less agonizing than any other. My whole body was so sore and racked with pain that the slightest touch caused inexpressible distress. For a period of many months I did not sleep but two nights, and the only rest I obtained was during the day, when nature became exhausted and I fell into a slumber, from which I was soon awakened by the beating and throbbing pain. My light was soon awakened by the beating and throbbing pain. limbs were swollen and my shoulders drawn out of place, and altogether I was rendered entirely helpless. I obtained the best medical advice, but without receiving any pern pent relief. The rheumatism being combined with a swell ing and painful affection of the joints, rendered itstill worse Tumors formed under the skin, round my head, which caused burning and lanciating pains similar to scrofula o the glands.

My groans at night caused the watchman to stop in the street as he passed by; and when many of my friends residing in Poughkeepsie last visited me, they bid me farewell, as they then thought for ever; and once the family as well, as they tree me to watch the last spark of lie go out. sembled in the room to watch the last spark of lie go out.
But the flame of life again glared up within me; and soon after this I heard of your Sarsaparilla, and determined to try it; and behold the result. After taking one bottle the pain left me, and I was able to walk and sleep. I could scarcely realize the transition—so sudden, so complete. Al-ter using four or five bottles, I was entirely cured. And are you alone, gentlemen, concerned to know it? I think not; and this language is too mild for the occasion. For I not; and this language is too mild for the occasion. For I know that the medicine that possesses the power to care me is capable of conferring the same blessing upon thousands of others suffering—perhaps dying; therefore, these are all concerned to know that they can be cured. In fact, all are concerned in the discovery of any thing that tends to promote the happiness of the human race; for we are social beings, and cannot suffer adone. Persons may doubt this statement if they will, and go on and suffer and die, I have discharged a duty which I felt incumbeat upon me in making it known for the benefit of those who choose to believe it. And when I look into the past—upon those folltary days and sleepless nights—I thank God that I am as I am. And I thank you, gentlemen, that you have made science minister unto our infirshites, and I, for one, will proclaim the fact.

Respectfully,

ter unto our infirstities, and I, for one, will proclaim the fact.

Respectfully,

The soundest principles of innovation are con servative, and Fourier is the most conservative of all reformers; he is, indeed, almost the only real innevator who is thoroughly conservative in principle and policy; improving upon all things and destroying none. He does not do away with present institutions, to begin de novo with unknown and arbitrary laws and customs; he progresses from the present to the future, gradually and by slow degrees, as individuals grow from infancy to manhood without losing their identity of personality and character. He does not equalize the pleasures of enjoyment by distributing in equal pertions to the Mass the wealth which is possessed by few; he teaches us the laws of Providential order, and the secret of enriching all without despoiling any. He teaches us the secret of "Attractive Industry," in which the riches of activity and health of mind and body are superior to those of individuals, in a true state of social Unity, are the most valuable and devoted servants of Humanity, selves alone, and can enjoy the luxury of Riches only in so much as they improve the pleasures and refinements of the Mass: and that the more a rich man has to spend, in such a state of things, the more he is constrained to study the improvement of Society, and labor for its welfare in his compoorest will be deemed the least descrying and the richest, most, in true associative Unity, because the
